Battle of the Drones Heats Up On The Slopes: As the use of recreational drones, to film video, is rapidly increasing in popularity, ski resorts — and the Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) — are scrambling to determine how to deal with this rapidly emerging new technology on the slopes. The FAA was supposed to release its final draft of new regulations regarding personal drone use by October 1, but missed that deadline, pushing the date back to late spring 2016 — after the upcoming ski season ends at most resorts. Fearing impacts with other skiers, lifts or other infrastructure, the National Ski Areas Association (NSAA) has drafted its own set of rules banning the flying of personal and commercial aerial drones at ski areas.

Ski resort operators fear that without taking preemptive action, aerial video drones could one day become as ubiquitous on the slopes as GoPro POV cameras are today. Violation of the NSAA rules could result in drone confiscation and/or loss of skiing privileges, and in some areas potentially regulatory fines as well. At the same time, the NSAA is urging the FAA to allow resorts to fly their own commercial drones to assist in lift inspections, search and rescue operations and avalanche mitigation. Some resorts have struck out on their own and already issued their own drone bans. Among them is Crested Butte Mountain Resort, which has already published its written drone policy: "Out of safety concerns for guests, employees, and resort property, Crested Butte Mountain Resort prohibits the operation of unmanned aerial systems, or aerial drones, by the general public, including recreational users and hobbyists, without prior written authorization from the Resort. Commercial videographers who wish to film on U.S. Forest Service land will need to obtain a special permit and pay a fee to the Forest Service prior to filming, whether they use unmanned aerial vehicles or not.

Charities and Community Service Recognition Program: FWSA encourages all clubs and councils to get involved with charities and community service. Changes were implemented last year for our Charity Recognition Program, creating two different levels of application for Clubs: We now have the Diamond (novice) and the Double Diamond (masters) award. Any Club that has won first place in this wonderful Recognition Program in a past year will apply in the Double Diamond category. All other Clubs will be in the Diamond category. The 2 separate levels will hopefully give all groups an added incentive to apply, and then to apply again. The first prize in each Club category will be $200 and for second place $50. The Council award remains the same, with one category and with a $100 recognition for first place. All prizes will be donated to the charity of the Clubs and Council's choice. The top 2 Clubs in each category and the winning Council will be invited to display a picture board at Convention. All groups that apply will be recognized at Convention. Information and applications can be obtained on the Far West website: www.fwsa.org regarding this wonderful program, and how easy it is to apply for this recognition. For any Charity & Community Service questions, contact Sigrid Noack at sig4ski@earthlink.net.

Each will be featured for one hour at the LA Council Ski Dazzle Booth, throughout the weekend. Please consider having your club and trip leaders volunteer to man the Council booth for one of the 4-hour time slots available. Remember, attracting people to fun trips is how a ski club can build additional members and supporters!

FAR WEST SKI FOUNDATION

What's Happening With The Far West Ski Foundation: The Far West Ski Foundation has had a busy year. In July, we granted two scholarships ($1000) to the Fly Girls Program of Women's Ski Jumping for Development Camp; which involves young women from the USA as young as 12, and is the development program for the national team, now taken over by the U.S. Ski Team. This was the first year for the Fly Girls devo program and our first grant to it. We have authorized Grants, in the amount of $500 each to Oregon Adaptive Sports and the Adaptive Sports Center at Crested Butte Mountain Resort (the site of our 2016 Mini Ski Week). Also planned, is our annual contribution to the Vail Veterans Program, to support their adaptive ski weeks. VVP and its partners annually draw rehabilitation patients (and clinicians if needed) from the major Armed Forces hospitals - Walter Reed, Brooks, and Balboa, bringing them to Vail at no cost to the patient. One week is planned for families, the other week for adults. Vail hosted 42 children in one family ski week last season. This month, we are offering grants to racing schools in support of the FWSA/FWSF Athletic Scholarship Program, in the amount of $11,425. The 13 scholar-athletes are trained by 9 ski racing schools in four states. This is the program's 12th year in existence. The names of those young athletes are listed in the article below.

We continue to review the direction and impacts of the Foundation, searching for better ways to achieve and surpass our goals. We depend on you, fellow believers in the worth and future of snowsport, to help sustain the Far West Ski Foundation and its missions - Alpine ski racing, adaptive snowsports, the development of women's ski jumping, and preservation of the legacy of snowsport. Please take some time to think about contributing to the Far West Ski Foundation before the end of the year. This would be your personal testament in addition to any commitments from your organization. It's easy to do. You can use your PayPal on the website farwestskifoundation.org; or you can use your PayPal and just send the contribution to FWSFPresident@gmail.com or FWSF.Treasurer@gmail.com; or you can send a check to John Reinhardt, FWSF Treasurer, 6105 SW Sheridan St, Portland, OR 97225. Make check payable to FWSF. Your contribution can be either unrestricted or designated for one of the Foundation's missions. John Watson, President, Far West Ski Foundation, says " Let me make this challenge: I will match the first contribution of $500 by an individual made on or before December 6, 2015. Who is willing to take John up on that challenge?"
