RESORTS CONTINUE TO ROLL OUT 2021-2022 SKI & SNOWBOARD PASSES: In an announcement that Vail Resorts had teased for weeks, the resort conglomerate announced that it was reducing — not increasing — its season pass prices for next season by 20 percent across the board. That means New Englanders who purchased an Epic Local Pass for $729 this season can grab one for only $583 for the 2021-22 season. “The ski industry, our company and skiers and riders everywhere just navigated the most challenging season we have ever encountered,” chairman and chief executive officer of Vail Resorts, Rob Katz said in a statement. “Because of the growth and loyalty of our pass holders, we were able to ensure this season was a success, with full operations across our 34 North American resorts, even amid a pandemic. When we launched the Epic Pass 13 years ago, we began a journey to offer incredible value, flexibility and access to pass holders in exchange for a commitment before the season starts. Since then, we have added 32 resorts to our portfolio to give our pass holders more choice”.

The 2021-22 Mountain Collective Pass goes on sale to the general public today for $499 for adults 18 or older. Passes for children 12 and under are $129, and a new teen pass will be $399 for the 13 to 18 age bracket.

U.S. SKI & SNOWBOARD CEO RESIGNING: Tiger Shaw, President and CEO, will resign effective March 2022, following the Beijing Winter Olympics. Shaw began his career with U.S. Ski & Snowboard in October of 2013. During his tenure, he will have served through three Olympic Games and 12 world championships. He replaced Bill Marolt as president and CEO after the Olympic Winter Games in Sochi, Russia, in 2014. Shaw will be named CEO emeritus upon his resignation and will join the U.S. Ski & Snowboard Foundation board as a trustee focusing on several key fundraising priorities including athlete funding. Shaw said he doesn't have any immediate plans for the next chapter after his departure. He is focused on running the organization and facilitating a smooth transition.

U.S. SKI & BOARD HALL OF FAME: The U.S. Ski & Snowboard Hall of Fame has partnered with the NSCF to provide our councils, clubs and members with an affiliate membership opportunity with perks ranging from discounts, free museum access plus voting to see who gets inducted into the Hall of Fame. Home of the original pond crossing event. Killington – latest closing. Mammoth Mountain – the best Spring Park. Lastly, Arapahoe Basin – "it's the Beach!"

U.S. SKI & BOARD HALL OF FAME AND NATIONAL BROTHERHOOD OF SKIERS: U.S. Ski & Snowboard, has announced a new four-year partnership with the National Brotherhood of Skiers (NBS). Founded in 1973, the NBS promotes winter sports among minorities and seeks to develop elite-level minority winter sport athletes. "We are honored to officially partner with the National Brotherhood of Skiers," said U.S. Ski & Snowboard President and CEO Tiger Shaw. "I regret we have not done so sooner, as our missions are aligned in making the U.S. Best in the World at Olympic skiing and snowboarding. We cannot truly be the best until we are more inclusive and accessible to all. We recognize the economic and geographical barriers to our sports and in partnering with NBS know we will be better equipped to engage with minority and underrepresented communities. We look forward to working with NBS over the next four years, and well into the future, in creating a more inclusive winter sports community."

This new partnership seeks to establish a comprehensive program involving outreach efforts, training, funding and other resources aimed at achieving athletic excellence and furthering the mission of the NBS and developing a pipeline of elite-level minority winter sport athletes. U.S. Ski & Snowboard will provide NBS coaches access to its Sport Education programs as well as provide training opportunities to NBS athletes commensurate with their level of athletic accomplishment and qualifications. Both organizations will facilitate access to resources for minority athletes who have experienced economic barriers to the entry into and continued participation in winter sports. To kick off the partnership U.S. Ski & Snowboard is proud to announce its title sponsorship of the NBS 2021 Virtual Black Ski Summit.

FAR WEST COUNCILS

NORTHWEST SKI CLUB COUNCIL: This was an unusual race season. PACRAT was the only adult recreational ski race league to get a full season in. Due to the Covid pandemic, each team had to be split into two halves, one racing during the day and the other racing on nights. Both only midweek. Each group participated in 3 races, for a total of 6 races overall. There were 16 teams who participated. The top 10 Teams are listed as such: #1 – Rattitudes, Mountain High Snowsport Club; #2 – Broadway Bombers, NWXventures; #3 – Ruttin' Rats, Schnee Vogeli; #4 - PDX Sliders, NWXventures; #5 – Avalanche Express II – Mt. High Snowsport Club; TIED #5 – Team Tilikum, NWXventures; #7 – Mixed Nuts, Mt. High; #8 – Avalanche Express, Mt. High; #9 – Will Ski for Beer, Mt. INTERMOUNTAIN SKI COUNCIL: The Intermountain Ski Council is currently planning a summer 2021 council gathering at Lava Hot Springs in Idaho. A few members of the Bogus Basin Ski Club, in Idaho took a trip to McCall, ID to ski Brundage Mountain on March 20th. The Northern Wasatch Ski & Social Club, in Utah, enjoyed the last few days of the season with 2 spring skiing events at Snowbasin Resort in Huntsville, UT. On March 28th, they had a ski day followed by a fun tailgate party in the parking lot and on April 7 the ladies of the club showed up in fun costumes for a ski day followed by lunch at the lodge. They gained 4 new members in the last month and have also added some fun events to the calendar for this summer. From Cheyenne Ski Club, in Wyoming, the news indicates that their "city got shellacked by three feet of snow a couple weeks ago, so we made like the intrepid Wyoming two-plankers we are and took to the streets! We enjoyed an urban ski tour of a winter wonderland free of cars. A lap around the Capitol, laying tracks through the park and down our main thoroughfare - a grand time was had by all! We also enjoyed learning some new skills with a local ski coach who provided our Club lessons in skate skiing. We are getting ready to unveil our new website and hand the reins to next year's board. Plans are underway for an outdoor, socially-distanced end of year party as our small but mighty crew finishes getting vaccinated in the coming weeks."
